

Netigate is a Finalist for the 2010 Red Herring 100 Europe Award

Stockholm – May 26, 2010 – Netigate announced today it has been selected as a finalist for Red Herring's Europe 100 award, a prestigious list honoring the year's most promising private technology ventures from the world European business region.

The Red Herring editorial team selected the most innovative companies from a pool of hundreds from across Europe. The nominees are evaluated on both quantitative and qualitative criteria, such as financial performance, technology innovation, quality of management, execution of strategy, and integration into their respective industries.

This unique assessment of potential is complemented by a review of the actual track record and standing of a company, which allows Red Herring to see past the "buzz" and make the list an invaluable instrument for discovering and advocating the greatest business opportunities in the industry.

"We are very proud to be a finalist for the 2010 Red Herring 100 Europe Award" said Victor Molander, CEO of Netigate. "We deliver true value to our customers and it is always nice to be awarded for our accomplishment."

"This year was especially difficult," said Alex Vieux, publisher and CEO of Red Herring. "Despite the global economic situation, there were many great companies producing really innovative and amazing products that we had a difficult time narrowing the pool and selecting the finalists. Netigate shows great promise therefore deserves to be among the Finalists. Now we're faced with the difficult task of selecting the Top 100 winners of Red Herring Europe award. We know that this year's crop will grow into some amazing companies that are sure to go far."

"The Red Herring award is a prestigious award and I am glad that Netigate is a finalist" said Tom Nyman, Chairman of the Board, Netigate. "Netigate is a company that I have great confidence in. Netigate has showed great results so far and the future looks even more promising."

Finalists for the 2010 edition of the Red Herring 100 Europe award are selected based upon their technological innovation, management strength, market size, investor record, customer acquisition, and financial health. During the several months leading up to the announcement, hundreds of companies in the telecommunications, security, Web 2.0, software, hardware, biotech, and clean tech industries sent in their submissions to qualify for the award.
